Continuation of 3. NOTE: The amendments broaden the claim language, and as such would require further search and consideration.

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Regarding the applicants' arguments with respect to the independent claims, the examiner does not find the arguments persuasive as they depend on the amendments which have not been entered.

Regarding the applicants' argument with respect to claim 42, the examiner does not find the argument persuasive. While Seth-Smith does not directly teach tracking "access codes", Seth Smith does teach tracking consumable data (credit) which once runs out needs to be refilled, and that by tracking the usage of the consumable data (credit) the user can be alerted when the data is running low such that it can be refilled. The ordinary person skilled in the art would see the analogous nature of tracking credit and tracking access codes, both of which are consumable, and thus would realize that the teachings of Seth-Smith can be applied to track access code usage in order to allow the access codes to be updated when they have nearly run out. Therefore, the examiner does not find the argument persuasive, and has maintained the rejection.
